

Megan H Swank, Au.D., CCC-A, F-AAA

Dr. Megan Swank is a native Nevadan who received her Bachelor of Science in Speech Pathology and Audiology from the University of Nevada, Reno with a minor in Psychology and her Doctorate in Audiology from the University of Utah with a specialization in pediatrics. She holds licensure from the State of Nevada Board of Examiners for Audiology with Dispensing and is certified through the American Speech, Language and Hearing Association. Dr. Swank is currently an assistant professor at the University of Nevada, Reno in the Department of Speech Pathology and Audiology where she loves to share her passion and knowledge of audiology with her students. She also runs the department's audiology clinic; her areas of interest include pediatric audiology, hearing aids, cochlear implants, vestibular disorders, aural rehabilitation, and auditory processing disorders. When Dr. Swank isn't working, she enjoys spending time with her husband Danny, friends, and family, exploring the Sierra Nevadas, knitting, reading, and watching movies.